

LOANLAND, based in Frankfurt am Main, is a credit specialist for real estate private debt and acts as an investment manager for both credit funds and individual mandates. Combining expertise in real estate, financing, and regulatory affairs together with digitalization know-how, LOANLAND offers a fast and reliable access to real estate private debt. To strengthen our highly motivated and professional team in Frankfurt we are continuously looking for

Intern // Real Estate Debt (m/f/o)

Your Tasks

- Support in the areas of loan origination / -execution
- Support in preparation and optimization of dynamic financial models for detailed risk and return assessments of potential real estate transactions
- Preparation of marketing materials and investor presentations
- Conduct industry research and market analyses
- Development, analysis and implementation of new business models and projects for LOANLAND

Your Profile

- Excellent performance in a current / recently completed study program, ideally with a focus on finance, business administration or real estate management
- Initial practical experience (e.g., corporate finance, management consulting, investment banking, private equity, real estate, financing) in line with your current educational and career progress
- Highly interested in real estate finance and finance-related topics
- Very good MS Office skills (esp. MS Excel and MS PowerPoint)
- Strong analytical thinking and communication skills
- Very good English and German language skills (written and spoken)

Our Offer

- Varied and challenging tasks in a young, dynamic, and growing company
- Steep learning curve through immediate responsibility, active participation, and direct impact within LOANLAND
- Fast-paced, dynamic, and successful environment with direct exposure to experienced real estate and debt financing specialists
- Modern workplace centrally located in Frankfurt am Main (Goethestraße)
- Chance of ongoing employment after successful completion of internship and studies

Become part of a motivated team!

Please send your complete application documents, stating the next possible starting date, exclusively by e-mail to Ms. Laura Hanstedt via careers@loan-land.com

We look forward to meeting you!