

LOANLAND, based in Frankfurt am Main, is a credit specialist for real estate private debt and acts as an investment manager for both credit funds and individual mandates. Combining expertise in real estate, financing, and regulatory affairs together with digitalization know-how, LOANLAND offers a fast and reliable access to real estate private debt. To strengthen our highly motivated and professional team in Frankfurt we are currently looking for

Senior Loan Specialist (Director) (m/f/o)

Your Tasks

- Holistic management along the value chain of real estate private debt within the framework of fund mandates and responsibility for key account management
- Identification of suitable financing opportunities and corresponding origination & execution including investor reporting
- Project-related execution of wide-ranging financing opportunities using different debt products (e.g. senior, mezzanine, whole loan, bridge)
- Budget responsibility incl. management of junior resources
- Support of senior management in development and implementation of new fund products

Your Profile

- Successfully completed study program, at best in the field of finance, business administration or real estate management
- Many years of professional experience, ideally at a state or commercial bank with focus on real estate financing and / or project developments
- Extensive experience in the areas of loan process, -structuring and -administration
- Existing network in banking and real estate industry for preparation and implementation of syndication projects
- Excellent analytical and communication skills along with team orientation
- Business fluent in German and English as well as strong MS-Office expertise

Our Offer

- Development, analysis and execution of new business models and investment opportunities
- Varied and challenging tasks in a young, dynamic, and growing company
- Steep learning curve through immediate responsibility, active participation, and direct impact within LOANLAND
- Fast-paced, dynamic, and successful environment with direct exposure to experienced real estate and debt financing specialists
- Attractive, performance-based compensation system
- Modern workplace centrally located in Frankfurt am Main (Goethestraße)

Become part of a motivated team!

Please send your complete application documents, stating the next possible starting date, exclusively by e-mail to Ms. Laura Hanstedt via careers@loan-land.com

We look forward to meeting you!